Tax Board Sets Meeting Dates

The Collin County Commissioners Court will meet as the county's Board of Equalization, beginning at 1:30 p.m. Monday, June 28, it was announced today.

According to County Judge Nathan E. White Jr., the board will meet until 4:30 p.m., Monday, then will reconvene from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. each weekday thereafter until all petitioning citizens are heard.

Persons wishing to object to their recent county tax revaluation, or those seeking additional information, are requested to call Mrs. Helen Starnes, County Tax Assessor-Collector at 1-542-2411 for an appointment.

Light Agenda Faces Solons

A meeting of less than 30 minutes is anticipated for the Collin County Commissioners Court at 9 a.m. Monday morning, which will be conducted without County Judge Nathan E. White Jr., who is out of town on business.

Other than routine approval of minutes and financial transactions, the commissioners are to consider the May financial statement and accounts payable for Collin Memorial Hospital, then consider a change order for the courthouse and jail construction contract.

Also scheduled is consideration of a $27.18 tax refund to Clint Hackney and a $25.21 tax refund to Bill Kreymier.

The appointment of a replacement for retiring Precinct 5 Justice of the Peace C.J. Prashaw of Plano apparently won't be scheduled until next week.

Trustees Plan Budget Study

School trustees will study the 1976-77 budget during its regularly scheduled meeting Tuesday evening at the School Administration Bldg., 1517 Avenue H.

Prior to beginning the 11-item agenda, the seven-member Board will meet in executive session at 7:30 p.m. to discuss personnel and site matters.

Scheduled to convene in public session at 8 p.m., the Board will present plaques to retiring employees and will review and approve minutes and a budget report before presenting resolutions supporting the Plano night at the June 30 Ranger baseball game and water rights in the Cooper Reservoir.

In other action, trustees will be asked to consider the installation of the gas main to Armstrong Middle School, graduation requirements, Board Policy 4151 and PEA request for donated sick days. Board members will then consider the request of a parent concerning housing of the Forman fifth grade before conducting a hearing for Helen Harkness for the University of Plano.

Before beginning the budget study, trustees will discuss the tax office operation, with talk expected to center around whatever action the Plano City Council takes on the matter during their Monday night meeting, when they discuss the PISD's request to revalue improvements.

Doing The Honors

Collin County Judge Nathan E. White Jr. of Plano etches his name in county history by turning the first spadeful of dirt to signal the beginning of construction on the county's new $7.5 million Courthouse and Jail. The special groundbreaking ceremony took place Saturday morning in McKinney. (Staff photo by Mike Newman).

Plano Burglary Rate Drops

Overall Crime Shows Slight Increase

BY PAM TROBOY

Burglary has declined for the first time this year, according to a crime report released by the Plano Police Dept.

The monthly report which is sent to the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) shows that only 53 burglaries occurred in Plano in May compared to 63 in April for a 15 percent decline.

Since January, burglary has increased each month from eight to 26 percent. The crime has also risen 17 percent compared to the same period a year ago.

All offenses have risen 29 percent in comparison to May of 1975, although crime has increased by only 1.4 percent during the past month.

Assaults showed the largest increase (112 percent) in May with 17 reported while thefts rose 17 percent (141 reported). Auto theft declined 42 percent with three recorded.

Twenty-eight percent of all offenses were cleared by arrest this past month. Police said they solved 58 percent of the assaults, 53 percent of the burglaries and 15 percent of the thefts.

About half of the reported thefts (70) involved auto parts or accessories, usually citizen band radios or antennas. Other reported thefts included 19 from motor vehicles, 19 bicycles, 14 shoplifting, three from buildings, one from coin operated machines and 15 miscellaneous.

Property valued at $32,631 was stolen in the thefts while auto thefts accounted for $9,300 of the losses and robbery, $1,606.

According to the FBI report, $14,660 in property was taken in the 53 burglaries. About 55 percent or 29 did not involve forcible entry. The burglar was able to gain entry through an open or unlocked door or window.

Eighty-four percent of the burglaries or 45 were reported in residences with 13 occurring at night, 13 during the day and 19 at an unknown hour. The non-residential burglaries included four at night, two during the day and two at unknown hours.

Officers said they were able to recover about 46 percent of property reported stolen. Items valued at $56,591 were stolen while police recovered $26,451 in property.

Stolen items included: money, $1,082.; $223 recovered; jewelry, $3,350; $552 recovered; clothing, $552; recovered; vehicles, $10,525, $9,775 recovered; office equipment, $250, none recovered; televisions, radios and stereos, $11,422, $895 recovered; firearms, $929, none recovered; household goods, $1,674, $2,504 recovered; consumable goods, $119, $78 recovered; livestock, $2,300, $2,300 recovered; and miscellaneous, $24,337, $10,574 recovered.

Police arrested 61 adults including seven for assault, one for burglary, four for theft, one for sex offenses, one for possession of marijuana, two for possession of heroin, one for possession of synthetic narcotics, 15 for driving while intoxicated, nine for public intoxication, one for disorderly conduct and 19 for all other offenses.

Fifty-three juveniles were arrested including 12 for burglary, 22 for theft, two for auto theft, two for possession of marijuana, one for vandalism, two for driving while intoxicated, two for public intoxication, three as runaways and seven for miscellaneous offenses.

mentation to a council committee composed of Jack Hatchell and Robert Ellis.

The committee's recommended ordinance provides for the following charges: $2,796.91, first MCF; $1,646.91 per MCF for the next 3,000 cu. ft.; $1,566.91 per MCF for the next 6,000 cu. ft.; $1,506.91 per MCF for the next 15,000 cu. ft.; $1,456.91 per MCF for the next 75,000 cu. ft.; and $1,436.91 per MCF for more than 100,000 cu. ft.

Williamson says the average homeowner uses about 10,000 to 12,000 cu. ft. of natural gas per month.

Council members will debate a request from the PISD School Board that the tax reevaluation cycle continue this year with improvements. If the proposal is rejected trustees will probably form a separate tax office.

The council will also indicate its proposed use of Federal Revenue Sharing funds. Although the monies will not be allocated until the budget sessions later this summer, the city is required to file a preliminary disposition with the federal government.

The staff has recommended that $64,700 be used to purchase police cars (public safety), $66,116 to purchase sanitation vehicles (environmental protection), $6,650 to purchase a vehicle for the health department (health), $4,150 to purchase a vehicle for the parks department (recreation) and $5,050 to purchase a vehicle for the city manager's office (multi-purpose and general government).

A resolution pledging $1.4 million to the state highway department for the improvement of FM 544 and the construction of a US 75 overpass at Parker Rd. will also be considered.

The city will promise to provide all right-of-way, relocate all necessary utilities and contribute $1.4 million for the construction of FM 544 as a four-lane, divided thoroughfare from Westwood to Independence and the Parker Rd. Overpass as a minimum four-lane, divided roadway.

Council members will also ask for action within the year and consideration of the increased local participation whenever additional improvements are undertaken.

Several requests and appeals are also on Monday's agenda. Cecily W. Lehrfeld will ask permission to hold a neighborhood block party on Buckboard Dr.

M. Paul Spain of Plano & Assoc., Inc. will appeal a requirement that a bridge be built to connect Lancer's Estates and High Place II additions and representatives of Architectural Spectrum Co. and Bredow Bruner General Contractors will ask a variance to build an all-wood house in Plano.

Resolutions to be considered include those recognizing June 30 as Plano Night at Ranger Stadium; determining the necessity for constructing the Shiloh Relief Trunk Sewer Line and authorizing the city manager to file eminent domain proceedings on the Stephen L. Goodman Tract, Lot 12, Block 2, Ridgewood III; and approving, affirming and ratifying the actions of the mayor in executing a deed of trust for the purchase of Lot 6, Block D of Whiffletree.

Other items on the agenda are the consideration of the June tax roll, quit-claiming a portion of an alley in the Portman Addition and accepting street improvements to Custer, Parker and Independence and paving and drainage improvements to Woodhaven Addition.

Ordinances annexing and zoning 373.227 acres in northwest Plano and providing for the payment of city claims before planning and zoning hearings are held will also be considered.

Among the planning cases up for council consideration are the final plat of Teakwood Estates, a 29-acre SF-2 development located on the southwest corner of Parker and Custer Rds.; the final plat and site plan of Willowbrook Square, a 6.2-acre shopping center on the northwest corner of Park Blvd. and Custer Rd.; the site plan of Corner Village, a 10-acre retail center located on the northwest corner of Parker Rd. and Alma Dr.; and the final plat of Parker Plaza West II.

Fun Seekers

Jack Cockrill of First National Bank, and Rev. Jay Paul of First Presbyterian Church, are among the fun seekers buying tickets for the Plano Chamber of Commerce, for Plano Night at Arlington Stadium, which is scheduled for Wednesday, June 30, when the Texas Rangers host the Oakland Athletics.

Tickets are $4.50 each for plaza box seats, and all of Plano is invited. Close to 600 tickets already have been spoken for, and round-trip bus transportation also will be provided for $1.50 per person. For tickets and bus reservations, go by the CoC offices at the corner of Avenue L and 14th St. (Staff photo by Mike Newman).

On County Roads

Striping Begins Soon

The final details on more than 400 miles of highway striping in Collin, Dallas and Denton Counties were worked out and approved at a recent pre-construction meeting, held recently at the McKinney offices of James M. Huffman, resident engineer for the State Dept. of Highways and Public Transportation.

In the Plano area, the highways which will be striped include Preston Rd. (SH 289) and Avenue K (SH 5), while the other thoroughfares are US 380, US 377, SH 78, SH 121 and FM 720.

According to Huffman, white thermoplastic material, four inches wide, will be hot sprayed to a minimum 1-16th-inch thickness along the edge of the travel lanes. On divided sections, yellow-colored markings will be placed along inside lanes.

A total of 423 miles of striping will be placed, and the purpose is to provide a relatively maintenance-free system that is completely reflectorized and will provide good visibility, day or night, Huffman said.

The Perma-Line Corp. of America was awarded the contract for this work with a low bid of $312,197.86, and the project is expected to take 100 working days to complete.

The work in Collin County is expected to begin the week of June 21, and completion of all work is expected in late August. The anticipated rate of application is approximately 12 miles per day.

During striping operations, traffic will be routed around the work area by use of state vehicles with sequential flashing arrows. In addition, advance warning signs will be prominently displayed for motorists approaching from either direction.

Waco Bound

Kristi Leslie, Collin County Talent winner; Scherry Lynn Owens, Collin County Miss LaPetite, and Stacy Travis, Collin County Talent winner, are the three Plano girls who will be traveling to Waco Monday to compete in the Texas

Our Little Miss Contest, scheduled for this week. The winners of the state contest then journey to Baton Rouge, La., in August for the international contest. (Staff photo by Mike Newman)

Suspect Arrested Here

Two men were arrested Wednesday as they attempted to pass a forged prescription at Palisades Pharmacy.

When police ran a routine computer check on the couple, they discovered that one of the suspects is also wanted on a Dallas County felony warrant.

Eight other persons were arrested on Wednesday and Thursday including two juveniles for carrying prohibited weapons, as runaways and for a Dallas motor vehicle burglary; two juveniles for investigation of theft (the pair were later released); one on a Dallas County felony warrant, one on a Dallas Police Dept. traffic warrant, one for public intoxication and one for issuing a check with insufficient funds.

Officers also investigated two residential burglaries, a motor vehicle burglary, four miscellaneous thefts and two bicycle thefts.

Police answered 107 calls for assistance, took reports on six cases of criminal mischief, recovered a bicycle and investigated two accidents which occurred on Thursday.

Six-year-old Alan Pratt Chartier of 3417 18th sustained major injuries when his bicycle was struck by a 1964 Chrysler driven by Felix Dominguez Sanchez of Rt. 2. The accident occurred at 6:48 p.m. Thursday on 18th about 300 feet east of Ridgewood.

Lisa Maria McCrann of 2417 Peachtree and Kay Lynn Wells of 3309 Erwin were struck by a car as a result of the collision of a 1971 AMC driven by David Cordier of 2908 Park and a 1967 Ford driven by Rheann Patton of 3220 Rockbrook.

The impact of the collision pushed one of the vehicles into the girls. McCrann sustained a few bruises while Wells was uninjured. The accident was reported at 6:50 p.m. on Thursday at the intersection of Park and Peachtree.

County Accidents Reported

During the month of May the Texas Highway Patrol investigated 30 motor vehicle accidents on Collin County rural roads. Of these one was a fatal accident in which one person died, while nine others were personal injury accidents in which 18 persons were injured, and 21 were property damage accidents.

To date, in accidents investigated by the Texas Highway Patrol, four persons have died and 74 have been injured in 135 motor vehicle accidents on Collin County rural roads in 1976.

Letters

To the Editor:

We have been told that our Band Director, Emmitt Clem, will not be with us when we begin marching practice this summer.

For over twenty years, he has led the Plano High School Band to many honors, the latest being a silver medal in the Festival of Nations at Washington D. C. Also, no one could set a better example of outstanding moral character than Mr. Clem.

We love him and we will miss him.

Signed,
(63 Band Members)

Dear Sir:

In a tiny paragraph, at the very end of a school board report, in a recent "Star-Courier" edition, it was stated that Mr. Emmett Clem would no longer be the PSHS Band Director.

As we read yesterday's (June 8, 1976) article in the Plano Star-Courier about the successful and prestigious accomplishment the P.S.H.S. Band, directed by Emmett Clem, received during their appearance in Washington, D.C., the same gnawing question comes to mind. Why was Mr. Clem asked by the PISD trustees to step down from his current position after a career that spans some 20 years in Plano? These have been extremely successful and rewarding years for him and for Plano.

As admirers of Mr. Clem and his work with the PSHS Band, we would like to know the honest facts that brought the PISD trustees to see fit to make such a decision.

Many citizens who have heard misrepresented reasons, as have we, ask why this decision that involves a man who is respected by parents and student alike was so lightly handled. It is now time for the parents of PSHS students and taxpayers in the PISD to be told the honest facts. Hopefully, an error was made and the board will reinstate Mr. Clem to his former position.

If the PISD Board made a judgement of this magnitude as the result of such an emotional personality conflict as it now appears to be the only reason, not considering the professionalism and ability of Mr. Clem, our children and school system are in truly sad hands.

Sincerely,
Tom Morgan and

The Scourge of Texas

Along about this time every year a lot of people who are spending their first summer in Texas wander into the store wearing a pained and an uncomfortable look on their faces. Usually they will start the conversation with something like "I've got a bunch of tiny red spots on my legs and they itch like crazy", or "My child is covered with these little bumps that have a real red center". To the newcomers this can be a source of worry and embarrassment, but to those of us who have been here a while we know that they just have a good mess of chiggers.

The chigger is a minutely small insect that may have various names, depending on what part of the country you are in. Most of the names given to this lowly pest wouldn't do to put in a family newspaper, but regardless of what you call them they are the most pestiferous of all insects.

However chiggers don't just attack newcomers. People who have lived here all their lives get them too, and we are just as miserable as anyone else. The only embarrassment is caused by the fact that we are supposed to have enough sense to avoid them.

First of all, adult chiggers are vegetarians and it doesn't matter how good you think you look they just aren't interested in taking a bite out of you. One way to recognize an adult chigger is to count its legs since adult chiggers have eight legs. Only the larva have six legs and they are the ones that cause all the problems. They do this by attaching themselves to the skin and inject an irritating secretion which causes severe itching for several days. After a while the chigger gets full and is either scratched off or drops off and becomes an adult.

At Heard Museum

Safari Slated Soon

Each summer, the Heard Natural Science Museum puts on a special theme event which they call

"Safari," and special exhibits both on the nature trails and in the museum, activities, entertainment until after dark, when historical environmental movies will be shown on an outdoor screen.

The past two Safaris have been on human-oriented Bicentennial themes. First came "The American Indian," then "The American Pioneer." This year, the museum brings the Bicentennial emphasis to a climax with a look at "The Bicentennial Environment."

The event will take place on Saturday and Sunday, June 26-27, with the museum opening each day at 1 p.m. The festivities will continue until after dark, when historical environmental movies will be shown on an outdoor screen.

Volunteer guides stationed along the three-quarter mile nature trail will point out differences between today's environment and the north central Texas environment of 200 years ago. Placards situated at certain places will present quotations from Indians of the past, with comments about their environment and the white man's effect on it.

One particularly appropriate exhibit will involve sections from a giant bur oak tree which was the largest tree on the Heard Wildlife Sanctuary. The tree died in 1973, the victim of a root disease. A 12-inch section cut from the tree will be on display in the museum, while a four-foot section will remain outside on the nature trail.

Each section will be marked with pointers indicating certain years of historical and environmental interest in the growth rings of the tree. Since the tree was about 240 years old, the highlight of the exhibit will be the marker indicating the ring representing 1776.

Also in the museum will be a special exhibit of fossils going back much farther than 200 years. The five-foot, nine-inch Clear Lake Mosasaur skull, largest known specimen of this type of prehistoric, swimming lizard, will highlight this exhibit. Also included will be a fossil fish found in Collin County, a buffalo skull with a four-foot horn spread, and others.

There also will be other activities and entertainment to brighten the Safari visitor's afternoon. Blue Woody will return with his mule wagon rides, a popular feature of last year's Safari, and there will also be turtle races, providing some fast-paced action.

Participants are urged to bring their own turtles to enter, but a rent-a-turtle service will be available. The winner of each race will receive a $5 gift certificate at the museum sales desk.

Entertainment will be provided by a variety of musical groups, both instrumental and vocal, emphasizing folk songs.

Food will be prepared and served by the Heard Museum Volunteer's Guild, where a visitor can purchase a snack or a full meal.

Admission for the Safari will be $1 per visitor, adults and children included, but children under five will be admitted free, with a parent. Additional charges will be made for the mule wagon ride and refreshments.

Participants in turtle races will require a 50-cent entry fee and turtles may be rented for 25 cents.

Plano Gets BOR Okay For Grants

State Representative Bob Hendricks has been notified by Governor Briscoe that the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation (BOR) office in Albuquerque has approved federal assistance funds for the multi-purpose athletic fields and tennis center projects in Plano.

City officials were advised of BOR's approval of the $656,456 in matching grants by Representative Hendricks this week.

The funds will be used to construct lighted multi-purpose fields, rest room-concession facilities, parking, roads, lighting, 13 lighted tennis courts, and other related items. All of the facilities will be at the multi-purpose, joint-use site at Alma Rd. and Spring Creek Parkway.

— The Press And The American Revolution —

British Evoke Hostility

BY DR. FRANCIS
G. WALETT
Worcester State College
Copyright 1976 American Antiquarian Society

It is hard, if not impossible, to overstate the importance of the press during the American Revolution.

Not only did newspapers and other publications greatly aid in formulating opinion and supporting the Patriot cause, but they also gave to the new nation the conviction that freedom of expression was a vital ingredient in our democratic process. It remained for others to determine, however, exactly what liberty of the press would mean in the United States.

When Parliament passed the offensive Revenue (Sugar) Act of 1764, it was only 60 years since the Boston News-Letter, America's first real newspaper, was founded. By 1764, there were 23 newspapers in the colonies, a number of them established during the recently concluded French and Indian War. A larger population, wider circulation, and interest in the deepening quarrel with Britain stimulated growth and gave newspapers a chance to play a much larger role in community affairs.

Timidity Disappears

Prior to the development of the new British colonial policy in the 1760's, printers had not usually involved themselves in editorial activity. Afraid of possible reprisals that might bring ruin, publishers had avoided troubles by carrying only news items, official documents, commercial announcements, and advertisements. This timidity disappeared, however, and an angry, militant press emerged during the Revolutionary dispute.

It was the Stamp Act of 1765 that did much to turn the press decisively against British policies; this measure also gave the newspapers a greater sense of their potential influence.

Parliament had adopted a tax that struck printers hard, and it is small wonder that they angrily denounced it. Unwittingly, the British had evoked the hostility of the American press and, refusing to be intimidated, printers everywhere loudly condemned the Stamp Act. When the law was repealed in the face of American defiance, newspaper publishers were understandably pleased with their new-found power.

Opinionating Begins

Having won some degree of journalistic independence, newspapers began to assume new functions. The modern practice of editorializing had not yet been developed, but papers regularly carried opinion-making articles, boldly adopted large-type mottoes, and increasingly distorted the news (or manufactured it) to cultivate a point of view.

Patriot printers were by no means always free of official reprisals if they published articles hostile to the government. In 1766, for example, the editors of the two Virginia Gazettes were brought to trial for libel; the publisher of the New-York Gazette was reprimanded by the colony's assembly; and Gov. Thomas Hutchinson tried to drive Isaiah Thomas, the fiery Patriot printer of the Massachusetts Spy, out of business in the 1770's. But in general, the press held on to its greater liberty.

Free Press Argued

The question of freedom of the press inevitably became involved in the new role of American publishers. Although it ran contrary to the contemporary English common-law doctrine of seditious libel, Patriot journalists argued strongly for unrestricted discussion of public issues and the right of criticism of the government in the press. One way or another, Whig writers managed to escape punishment for publishing diatribes against British policy.

When the Patriots became powerful enough, however, they unashamedly suppressed the Loyalist press. Bringing up the difficult distinction between liberty and license, they condemned Tory writings. When they were unable to silence their enemies by legal means, the Patriots intimidated them or attacked them violently.

Quite obviously, freedom of the press had different meanings. It would be some time before American theorists could work out a reasonable, clear concept of it that could be supported by law.

Debate Begins

Thomas Paine's "Common Sense" touched off a great debate over independence that raged in the press in early 1776. There were numerous voices urging reconciliation, but many more writers called for a declaration of independence. Various forces helped to bring about a decision for independence; not the least of them was the agitation in the press.

John Adams wrote that it was the constant discussion of the issue in the newspapers and pamphlets that enabled the people "to ripen their judgements, dissipate their fears, and allure their hopes."

The outbreak of fighting in America had brought serious problems for newspapers. Of the 37 being published in April 1775, only 18 survived the war; and many had to suspend operations from time to time.

There were 17 journals that died during the Revolution, and 18 new papers that were begun failed to last it out. But some that were founded in the war period managed to continue operations, and at the end of the conflict 35 newspapers were being issued.

War Affects Papers

Military action affected both Whig and Loyalist newspapers: Patriot printers had to flee from towns and areas occupied by the enemy; Loyalist papers could be issued only in places occupied by the British.

Newspapers suffered during the American Revolution from the lack of an effective postal system and the absence of any regular newsgathering service; they depended almost completely on private sources of information and communications that chanced to come their way.

As a result of the disruptions of war, news coverage was quite haphazard, and in some cases important events were not reported at all in the press.

One of the problems faced by newspapers in this period was the chronic shortage of paper. Before the war, most paper had been imported from Britain and, now that this supply was cut off, printers had to depend on the output of several small American paper mills.

Newspapers constantly advertised for rags, out of which all paper was then made, and there was official encouragement of paper manufacturing. The supply was never adequate, however, and the product made in this country was generally of an inferior quality.

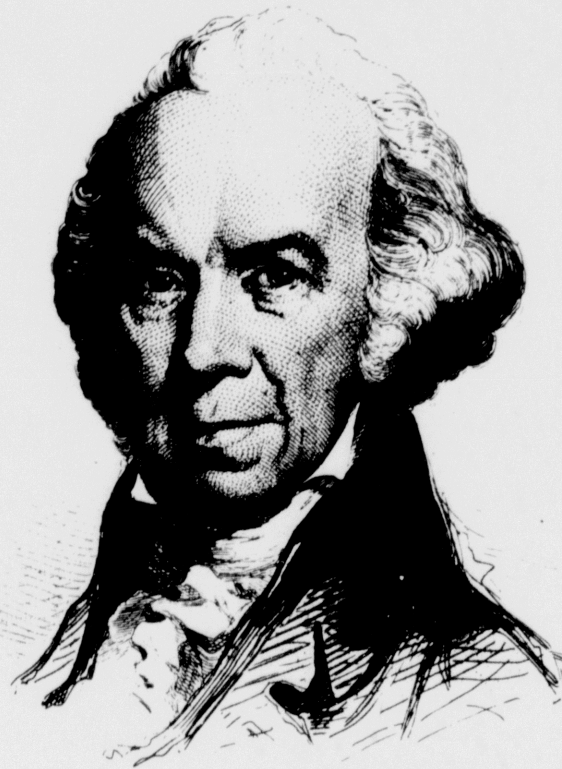

Own Mills Started

Several publishers, like the Sauers of Germantown, Pa., Hugh Gaine of New York and William Goddard of Baltimore, tried to solve the problem by establishing their own paper mill.

Another vexing problem that publishers had to contend with was severe inflation. Constantly rising costs of production made it necessary to raise the price of subscriptions and the cost of advertisements. With depreciating paper money plaguing them, printers at times collected what was due them in all sorts of material goods.

In spite of all the difficulties faced by the press during the American Revolution, it emerged from the period in stronger condition than before the war. It is clear, too, that journalism had experienced a revolution of its own. For the first time newspapers had energetically begun in their own ways to editorialize, that is to help formulate public opinion.

While there was great discussion of freedom of the press, no immediate answers to questions about this vital matter were reached. The experience of the American Revolution was to lead, however, to the eventual conclusion that our democratic society required through both custom and law a free press.

Isaiah Thomas

This print of Isaiah Thomas was engraved by Stephen A. Schoff, drawn by Hammatt Billings, and first printed in "Buckingham's Reminiscences" (Boston, 1850). Thomas founded the Massachusetts Spy in Boston and took it to Worcester, Mass., on the eve of the battle of Lexington and Concord. This staunch Patriot became a leading publisher of the new nation. He founded the American Antiquarian Society in 1812. (Courtesy, American Antiquarian Society.)

Great American Happenings

From a Great American Bank

1774: Ready when you are, England.

The British have seized our Massachusetts government. Filled our legislature with their own puppet rulers. John Hancock calls us together in April. In secret, we make ready for war. Our colonies have already formed straggling military companies and begun some backyard drilling. Now, we officially authorize a militia. It isn't fancy, but it means business. We call it the Minute Men, because it's ready to fight at a minute's notice. And it proves it. There comes the day we hear a report that British ships are firing on Boston. Within hours, thousands of men are on the march from the surrounding countryside to defend the town. No British guns are firing, in fact. It's a false alarm. But there's nothing false about our Minute Men's spirit. ☺

Mexico, by way of Padre Island, is the honeymoon destination of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Charles Long, who were married Saturday in a formal ceremony at 8 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church. Rev. Ramon Womack officiated.

The bride is the former Miss Dana Michele Gunlock and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Day Gunlock of 1801 Northcrest Dr. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Arthur Long of 1712 Avenue N.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white, pure silk sheer organza over white taffeta, designed with a contoured bodice and embellished with Alencon lace and seed pearls. The portrait neckline framed the face with lace and pearls which also accented the trumpet sleeves. An A-line skirt was finished with a border of the matching lace and continued onto a chapel length train sweeping full from the waistline.

The bride's mother wore an apricot chiffon gown with empire design and wore an orchid corsage, while the groom's mother chose a mint green gown with full sleeves and an orchid corsage.

Music was provided by Jean Longhry at the organ and by Jack Grimm, soloist. Selections included the "The Twelfth of Never," "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The church was decorated with arrangements of white gladiolas, chrysanthemums and daisies accented with candles and palms. Pews were marked with greenery and flowers.

The reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The bride's table and the groom's table were decorated in identical cloths of white pleated fabric. The bride's cake was a four-tier white cake with fresh flowers on the top, and the groom's cake was chocolate, topped with fresh fruit. Arrangements of peach and blue flowers centered the tables.

Houseparty members were Miss Deanna Ingram, of Birmingham, Miss Terri Painter, of Clovis, N.M., Miss Terry Dixon and Miss Becky Beckham. Miss Lisa Boyd, the bride's cousin, of Birmingham presided at the guest book.

MRS. KIRK EDWARD TAYLOR

Vows Are Exchanged

Miss Lutes Is Wed To Kirk Taylor

Miss Jenna Lutes, a descendent of early Plano settlers since 1880, was married to Kirk Edward Taylor Saturday. The double-ring wedding ceremony, officiated by Rev. Morris Beard, was held in the First Christian Church at 8 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin W. Lutes of 1714 N. Place, and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Taylor of Rt. 10, Lubbock.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a traditional silhouette of sheer white organza, with a moulded bodice and a scoop neckline which was overlaid with sheer tucked organza, with a delicate ruche of cluny lace at the neck. Touches of cluny lace with accents of seed pearls embellished the bodice.

Sheer ruffled bishop sleeves were caught at the wrist with lace cuffs that were edged with petite ruffled cluny lace, which fell over the hands. Rows of the lace continued down the skirt, framing a redingote of tucked organza, and wide ruffles edged the entire hemline which deepened in the back to form a chapel length train.

Layers of illusion fell from a lace covered Juliet cap. The veiling was trimmed with matching cluny lace and cascaded beyond the train. The bride wore an heirloom lavalier of gold, amethyst and pearls which belonged to her grandmother, the late Mrs. Sam Stogner, and she carried a cascade of gardenias.

Matron of Honor was Mrs. Tom Broome, cousin of the bride, of Houston and bridesmaids were Miss Gayla Beleele and Miss Marilyn Paddock of Plano, Miss Joan Ladig of Houston, Miss Marla Davis of Quitman and Mrs. Monica Reynolds of Lubbock.

The bride's attendants wore formal empire gowns of jonquil yellow voile, veiled over peau de soi. They were designed with cape collars, accented by ruffles and a softly gathered skirt with deep border flounce hem. They wore a single daisy with Baby's Breath as headpieces, and carried old fashioned nosegays of yellow and white daisies with Baby's Breath.

Costumed after the bridesmaid's dresses, Kristi Broome, cousin of the bride, and Chrissy Taylor, niece of the groom, were flower girls. They carried white baskets filled with yellow daisies.

The mother of the bride wore a soft mint green matte jersey gown with a slightly scooped neckline accented by a fan of pin tucks and angel sleeves brushed at the elbow. She wore a double cymbidium orchid corsage, as did the groom's mother, who chose a gown in a pale apricot of soft double knit. The dress was fashioned with a V neckline accented with lace, and the skirt fell from an empire waist line to floor length.

sang "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer," and Mrs. Randy Brodhead was the organist.

The altar was centered with an arrangement of gladiolas, daisies and mums, sided by spiral and arch candelabra with emerald palms. The pews were marked with white bows entwined with ivy.

The reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church where the bride's table was covered with a pleated white cloth and festooned with yellow tulle. It was centered with an arrangement of yellow and white daisies and the four-tier wedding cake was decorated with fresh yellow daisies and Baby's Breath.

The groom's table was covered with a white cloth with a band of yellow satin. It held a chocolate cake decorated with glazed fresh fruit, and coffee was served from an heirloom silver service which belonged to the late Mrs. Van Stogner, great-grandmother of the bride.

Wedding Is Recited

Former Plano Teacher Wed In Allen

Miss Janet Eugenia Spurgin of Austin, a former Plano school teacher, was married on June 5 to Rudy Camarillo of Ft. Worth. The wedding was held in the First United Methodist Church in Allen and was officiated by Rev. Tom Fuller, campus pastor at McMurray College in Abilene.

Parents of the couple are Orval E. Spurgin of 218 Wildwood Pl. in Allen and the late Estelle Heifner Spurgin, and Mr. and Mrs. Mariano Camarillo Jr. of 4414 Valleyfield in San Antonio.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of ivory peau d' soi, fashioned with a high waist line and a stand-up collar. The bodice and hem were accented with old-fashioned lace and ribbon, as were the layered puff sleeves.

The long veil of net was edged with matching lace and fell from a small ruffled lace cap. She wore diamond rose earrings, a gift from the groom, and carried a bouquet of daisies, yellow roses, Stephanotis and Baby's Breath.

The bride's ensemble had been previously worn by her sister, Mrs. Mary Helen Pratt of Austin, who served as her Matron of Honor.

Maid of Honor was Miss Jane Camarillo, sister of the groom, and both bridal attendants wore long princess gowns in lemon yellow with a V neckline. The sleeveless gowns had a button trimmed front tab. They carried spring bouquet nosegays.

Steve Pratt of Austin was Best Man and Mariano Camarillo, the groom's brother, of Austin, was the groomsman. Paul West, brother of the bride, of Allen, served as candlelighter and Frank Kerby of McKinney was the usher.

Music was provided by Mrs. Mary Ellen Shaffer of Lucas and Rev. Fuller accompanied himself on the guitar as he sang "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The church was decorated with candelabra and large baskets of spring flowers.

The wedding reception was held in the home of the bride's father, which was decorated with yellow and white daisies. The bride's table featured a yellow lace tablecloth centered with her wedding bouquet, and displayed a three-tier wedding cake decorated with yellow and white daisies and topped with fresh cut flowers. Mrs. Connie Fuller, Mrs. Linda Cleveland, Mrs. Mickey Williams and Mrs. Martha Liston presided at the bride's table.

Served by Mrs. Gayle Drake, Miss Kathy Coffman and Miss Sandra Jones, the groom's table held a German chocolate cake and pewter coffee service. Miss Shana Sims of Plano passed out yellow net rice bags, and Mrs. Terry Sims of Plano registered guests.

Mrs. Camarillo, a 1969 graduate of McKinney High School and a 1973 graduate of North Texas State University taught at Sigler Elementary School in Plano and for the past two years has been teaching

The groom is a graduate of the University of Texas at Austin School of Aerospace Engineering and is now an associate engineer with General Dynamics in Ft. Worth, where they will make their home at 2901 Gunnison Trail, Apt. 2034, following the honeymoon trip to Corpus Christi.

For her traveling ensemble, the bride chose a natural colored Krinkle cloth wrap-around dress, accented with a floral scrap and nestle accessories.

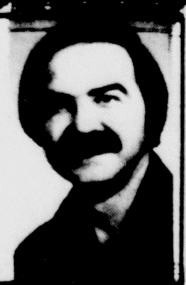

Grandparents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James Heifner and Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Spurgin of Lucas, and Mrs. Eustolia Camarillo of San Antonio.

INTERIORS

Cool colors make a wall recede and give a feeling of spaciousness. Warm colors, on the other hand, are much more aggressive, and make a wall seem to come closer to you. Remember always when choosing wall colors, that strong color fatigues the eye more than soft color. Use it with caution, and in small doses for the best effects. Color determines the mood of a room—whether cheerful or gloomy, warm and inviting, or cold and depressing. Why not choose colors that will work for you?

Save time and money in decorating your new home, or redecorating your present one, by talking with the experienced staff at HERRINGTON'S HOUSE OF INTERIORS, 1569 Downtown Shopping Center. Chapter Holds Candlelight Meet Zeta Omicron chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha recently met for its June meeting at the home of Sharon Moffett. In a candlelight ceremony conducted by president Rose Graham, assisted by vice president Judy Logan, two new members, Dot Barkley and Carol Collumb, were welcomed into the chapter as pledges.

The agenda for the business meeting included the announcement of committee chairmen for the coming year: Awards, Linda Ford; Budget, Jyoti Lakdawala; Contact, Linda Smith; Jongquil girl, Carol Collumb; Membership and Rush, Judy Logan; Publicity, Phyllis Ingram; Social, Sharon Moffett; Social Welfare, Angie Morton; Scrapbook, Nancy Aycock; and Ways and Means, Peggy Dolan.

The chapter voted to send a donation to a child in India who is in need of heart surgery. Although a Houston surgeon has volunteered to perform the operation at no charge, money is needed for transportation and hospital expenses.

Reservations were taken for the District XI meeting to be held June 13 and the Plano Area Council meeting on June 28.

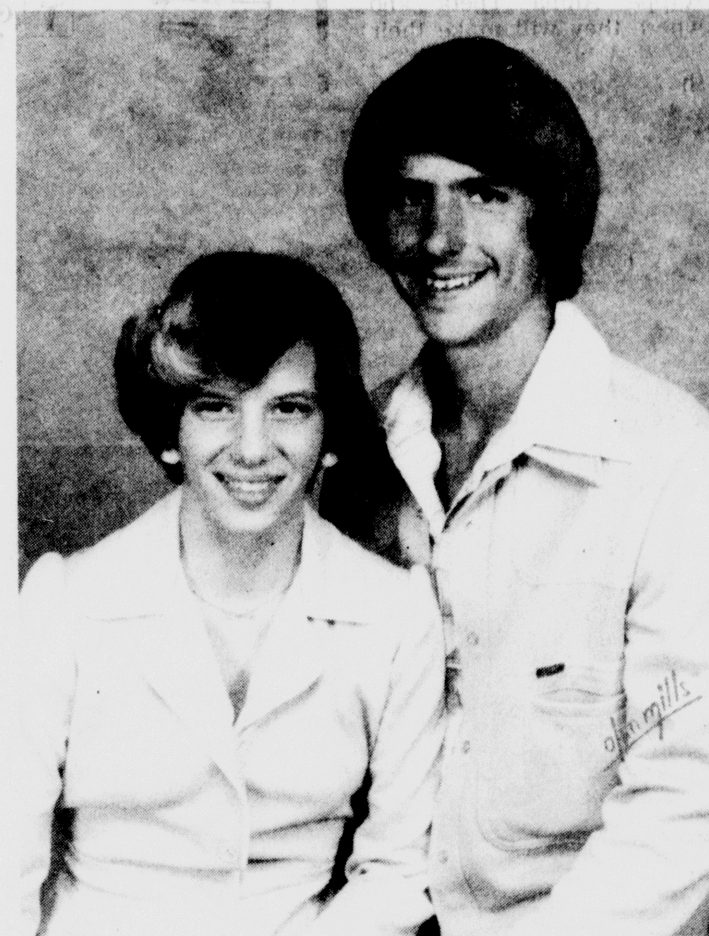

In lieu of a program, members presented a show-and-tell of bazaar ideas and voted to plan a fall bazaar for the third consecutive year.

Judy Logan presented the scrapbook of the past year's activities, compiled by her and Barbara Fleskes, to past president Phyllis Ingram. In addition, a personal gift of a framed crewel of a frog scene had been made by the pair.

At the close of the meeting, secret sisters were revealed and names drawn for secret sisters for the new sorority year.

Zeta Omicron will not hold regular meetings during the summer months, but the various committees will be meeting to plan activities for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent C. Tufano of 419 Northview Dr. in Richardson have announced the engagement of their daughter, Maria Stella to Terry Lynn Holt son of Mr. and Mrs. James Holt of 442 Valley Glen Dr. Richardson. Football Season Begins Saturday

By MIKE WESTER
 LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI) — While most of the nation is just settling in for a leisurely summer of baseball, the 1976 football season debuts Saturday night.

Sixty of last year's top college football players will take part in the 16th annual Coaches All-America game in what promises to be a wild passing match.

The game kicks off the lengthy seven month season at 9 p.m. (EDT). A crowd of 35,000 fans is expected at Texas Tech's Jones Stadium, and ABC plans national television coverage.

The East, coached by Navy's George Welsh, will be out to even the series at eight apiece and at the same time halt the victory string for West coach Frank Kush of Arizona State. Kush led Arizona State through a 12-0 season in 1975 and to the No. 2 ranking in the nation.

New Mexico slinger Steve Myer and Tulsa quarterback Jeb Blount will be throwing for the West. Myer hit 295 of 459 passes for 3,604 yards in 17 games, finishing tied for runner-up passing honors in the nation last year. Blount threw for 4,343 career yards, including 1,663 yards and 13 touchdowns last year.

Catching the aerials should be no problem from the West, with wide receivers Theo Bell of Arizona and Henry Marshal of Missouri and tight end David Hill of small college national champion Texas A&I. Whenever the ground game is needed, Kush can call upon Texas A&M running back Skip Walker and Iowa fullback Mark Fettes. But the air traffic will not be one-sided. The East has a pair of fine passers in Boston College's Mike Krueczek and Mississippi Valley's Parnell Dickinson.

Krueczek holds the all-time NCAA career passing completion percentage mark, hitting 225 of 337 in three years. Dickinson, meanwhile, has been busy throwing among the smaller colleges — passing for 6,326 yards and 34 touchdowns during his 36-game career.

Receivers include Dwight Scales of Grambling, Loid McCreeary of Tennessee State and Barry Burton of Vanderbilt.

The East also boasts plenty of running ability in backs Rich Jennings of Maryland, Andrew Bolton of Fisk and Don Testerman of Clemson.

Gary Johnson's theft of the ball from quarterback David Humm and the 68-yard touchdown romp that followed reversed the trend of the game last year and sent the East on its way to a 23-21 victory. The West carries a slim 8-7 series advantage into this year's battle.

The game originated in Buffalo, N.Y., later moved to Atlanta, and will be making its seventh showing in Lubbock, where it has had its best gate receipts ever.

Bha'i Observes Race Unity Day

The Baha'i Community of Plano will observe Race Unity Day today by attending the Dallas Baha'i Community's observance to be held at the Martin Luther King Community Center, 2922 Forest Ave. in Dallas, at 7:30 p.m.

Race Unity Day is a national observance of the American Baha'i Community. It is based on the belief that the most challenging issue facing our nation is racial prejudice, and that we can only achieve our high destiny as a people through the unification of our diverse racial elements. The sacred Writings of the Baha'i Faith state that when racial unity is achieved in America, it "will be an assurance of the world's peace."

Baha'is believe that racial unity is a divine commandment that will be inevitably realized in America. The Source of this commandment is Baha'u'llah revealed that the unity of mankind represents the highest goal of human evolution, which has progressed through the family, tribe, city-state,

BY LARRY L. CAWOOD
Member, University
Christian Church

Someone has said "Christ is Lord of all, or He is not Lord at all." This I believe is true and this makes Him Lord of our opinions and wills.

As Christians, our attitude should be the same as Jesus' (Philip. 2:5) and ours is simply to do His will (Matt. 7:24-27).

When we become a new creature in Christ (II Cor. 5:17) we are babes in Christ (I Cor. 3:1; I Pet. 2:2). As new babes in Christ we should learn a new way of life. Our wills and opinions on many things should change to where they are in line with God's thinking.

But the only way this can happen is by our knowing God's thinking and God's thinking is recorded only in the Bible. So if we want to become God-like we will have to study. How are you doing at growing, mentally, in Christ?

A Strong Unity Sentiment

There are many meetings attended by multitudes of people concerning unity. Many people want to talk about unity. Some say "Unity does not mean uniformity." Partly true and partly false.

God tells us in I Cor. 12:4

that there is only one Spirit who gives many and various gifts. He also said that same Spirit would guide His apostles to all truth. This should cause a uniformity of practice in all places.

"Where the scriptures speak" there must be uniformity or rebellion, and rebellion is never unity. In order to make Jesus Lord of lords we must make every thought captive to the obedience of Christ (II Cor. 10:15).

We should take a lesson from Naaman the leper of the Old Testament. He went to a prophet of God to be healed and the prophet told him to go and immerse himself seven times. This wasn't quite the honor he was looking for, so general Naaman stormed off towards home.

His servant, being somewhat wiser, persuaded Naaman that the obedience of faith was much more important than works of honor. Naaman obeyed and was cleansed of his leprosy. I wonder what would have happened if he had not done as he was told? We need to catch on to this same type of faith and unite.

An Illustration

A young man promises a young woman the world if she will marry him, but never follows through. Another young man makes similar promises in similar circumstances, but demonstrates his love by carrying through his promises. His action is constant with his profession.

Denominationalists may love the Lord, but knowing the Lord's prayer for unity and persisting in denominationalism, demonstrates that Christ is not the Lord of his opinions and his will.

Our opinions must be formed considering the teachings of Jesus. To claim obedience to God's word in spirit and ignore it in letter is to exalt one's own opinion rather than surrender to the Lord Jesus. Obedience in spirit and letter must apply in all cases and at all times.

Conclusion

Either Christ will be Lord of our lives or the devil will (Matt. 6:24). Obviously, you will indicate how well you have submitted to the Lord's will by your works (life) (James 2:14-25). Are you working for unity? If not, why not? Don't you love the Lord? Let's show our love by working together—for unity. Next week, we will look into love.

VB School To Be Held In City Park

"Because God Loves" will be the theme of Vacation Church School to be held Tuesday, June 15; Thursday, June 17, and Friday, June 18, from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in Harrington Park. Three-year-olds through fifth grade will be included. According to Rev. Arlyn Tolzmann, a great program is being conducted by Lil Schiffer, director, and the many teachers and teen helpers.

At First Methodist

Pastors Welcomed

Dr. Don F. Renshaw, new pastor of First United Methodist Church, will be welcomed today at a reception between 2 and 4 p.m. at the church. Two assistants, John Morphis and Dick Wilson will also be included in the welcoming event.

Dr. Renshaw is a native of Ft. Worth, having graduated from R.L. Paschal High School in that city. He attended Texas Wesleyan College, receiving a Bachelor of Science degree in psychology in 1957, and later attended and was graduated from Perkins School of Theology with a Master of Theology degree.

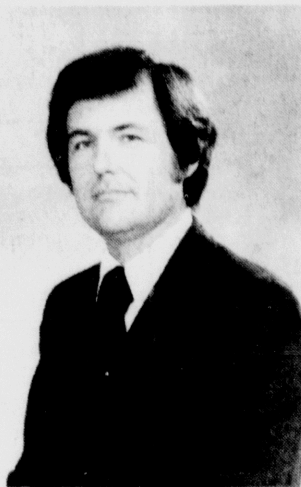

Under Bishop's appointments, Dr. Renshaw has served as a pastor of United Methodist churches for the past 21 years and comes to Plano from Sulphur Springs.

His credits of community involvement are many and include director of the Provisional School for Retarded Children in Ft. Worth from 1961-65; director of the Ft. Worth Christian Youth Council; director of the Hopkins County Chamber of Commerce and the Sulphur Springs Lions Club, as well as serving as director of the County United Way. He also served as chaplain during his service in the United States Army from 1965 to 1969.

Joining Dr. Renshaw in Plano are his wife, Barbara, and sons Mark, age 21; Scott, age 17—who will be a senior at Plano Senior High—and Todd, 15, who will be a sophomore at Williams High.

Traditional Beauty

Traditional styling, set to the pace of modern living, makes this house an exceptionally outstanding buy. Tastefully decorated, the house has been planned for family living with lots of storage space, natural lighting and liveability in room arrangements.

A bay window accents the breakfast area of the four bedroom house which has three bathrooms and a two car garage. The 18x15 game room has been situated on the second level with two bedrooms in the same area.

The master bedroom includes a shower and a bath and like all the other bedrooms has walk-in closets. The master area also includes a dressing area.

A wet bar has been added for leisure hours and the house has a large covered patio for outdoor living.

From the brick exterior to the inside warmth of rich paneling and gold accents, this is an exciting house.

Located in the Kimberlea addition at 3613 Stagecoach, Aargo is introducing this very attractive house today during open house festivities and your inspection is welcomed.

Name Change

Formerly known as Dicker Center, the large medical office complex located on W. 15th St., across the street from Plano General Hospital, now has a new name—Plano Medical Park, as evidenced by the new sign post in front of the facility. The park is being managed by John Daniel, former assistant administrator of PGH. (Non-staff photo).

Meeting Scheduled

The American Assn. of Retired Persons (AARP) will meet Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the Gladys Harrington Library. Entertainment will be provided.

All persons over 55 are invited to attend and join the organization, and membership is $2 per year.

At the May meeting, a hillbilly band from Brooks Manor in Dallas entertained the group. Their ages range from 60 to 90 and they play instruments from washboards to pianos.

According to a club report, the local chapter of AARP, has grown in membership to 100 since its founding one year ago. They meet every third Wednesday at the library, where a program is presented, including talks by the fire marshal and hospital directors, to a discussion on plants by the owner of "This Ole House." The Hal Missingers are in charge of programs.

The ladies take turns preparing or providing food under the direction of Augusta Angel, and a short business meeting is usually conducted.
